OUR O&M CAPABILITIES

Louis Berger provides operations and maintenance (O&M) support and turnkey delivery across a variety of market sectors, from transportation to buildings and facilities and from water to power and energy. We understand that long after construction crews complete their work, the sustainability and return on an infrastructure investment are dependent on appropriate and sufficient O&M.

For more than half a century, Louis Berger has supplied maintenance service teams, field service representatives and operations, logistics, engineering and technical services managers to the U.S. government, state and local governments, utilities, Original Equipment Manufacturers and private industry. Leveraging the Louis Berger design and construction expertise, we are able to offer complete facility management services.
